Awaiting Fateful Decree On Shadow

Will he see his shadow?
Tomorrow may be just Sunday, February 2, to you, my friend, but to a million other Americans or 10 or 20, it is Groundhog Day, the day when the groundhog comes out of his winter quarters, takes a look around and then decides whether you'll need your red flannels or your linen suit within the next six weeks. According to groundhog lore (and who wants to argue that) if the groundhog sees his shadow on the ground he goes back for six more weeks of snooze, and you and I stand off the coal man for another couple of tons. If, however, the skies be overcast and the groundhog can't see his shadow, the backbone of the winter is broken, the birds get an SOS to

Plunges Eight Floors To Death

Vice President Of Railway Credit Corporation Is Suicide In Washington

BULLETIN
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Eugene R. Woodson, vice-president of The Railroad Credit Corporation, today plunged to death from his eighth-floor office in the transportation building. Woodson left his watch, wallet, keys, and a short note on the desk. An open window in the office was the only other clue to the apparent suicide. The note read: "The car is on the parking lot adjoining the building." Woodson's body was so mangled immediate identification was difficult. Woodson was a native of Roanoke, Va. He had been connected with the Railroad Credit Corporation for five years. In addition to serving as vice-president, he acted as controller of the corporation. Before his connection with that body, he was secretary to the railroad accountants' association.

Demand Currency Be Issued Against Gold And Silver In Treasury

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—House inflationists today decided to fight for issuance of new currency to pay the cost of the Soldier's bonus but ignored a proposed farm bloc combination for issuance of "greenbacks" to meet the farm problem. At the same time, the group of 50 house members decided not to oppose the move of Senate leaders to attach a bonus appropriation rider of $2,249,000,000 to the independent offices supply bill in the Senate. Issue Against Gold And Silver After electing Rep. Patman (D) of Texas chairman, the group authorized him to name a steering committee to carry out the program. (Continued On Page Two)

New Jersey State Police On Lindbergh Case Again

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 1.—The New Jersey state police, in considerable bewilderment, today started the strangest manhunt in their experience. It is a hunt for alleged accomplices in the murder of baby Lindbergh—persons whom the police do not believe exist, or ever have existed. Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, obeying the dictates of his superior, Gov. Harold G. Hoffman, reluctantly issued the orders which swung his men back into action on the case which for more than two years was their biggest problem. The colonel, who as head of the police, was in supreme command of the investigation of the crime from the night of March 1, 1932, is convinced that the conviction of Bruno Richard Hauptmann closed the case. Order Is Obeyed Nevertheless, when Gov. Hoffman, who is not satisfied that the case (Continued On Page Two)

Widow Of Huey Long Is Named To Senate

(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 1.—Rose McConnell Long discarded her housekeeper's apron today to don the senatorial robes of her assassinated husband, Sen. Huey P. Long. In a surprise political move last night Gov. James A. Noe appointed the quiet, unassuming widow of Louisiana's Kingfish to fill his unexpired term in the United States senate, with the statement: "No one is more deserving of this honor than the widow of Huey P. Long." Mrs. Long announced acceptance of the appointment early today with the simple declaration: "That's fine. That's very fine." Thus the woman whose early prodigious confidence, adoration and unselfish self-denial started an obscure door-to-door salesman on the path to an unprecedented political dictatorship stepped from her preferred background of devoted wife, mother and housekeeper into the limelight diffused by her late husband. Mrs. Long fills the vacancy created by the slaying of the Kingfish last September and again last Tuesday by the sudden death of Gov. Oscar K. Allen, who is a recent primary was chosen Democratic nominee—tantamount to election—to fill the unexpired term. Technically her appointment entitles her to a senate seat only until next April's special election to determine the successor for the unexpired term. The Democratic state central committee is to meet next week to select a nominee for that election.

Books, Canaries, Desk, Toilet Articles Found In Dickie Loeb's Cell

(International News Service)
JOLIET, Ill., Feb. 1.—Books, two canaries, a filing case, a glass-top desk and toilet articles. These were part of the equipment which went to make prison life at Stateville penitentiary more pleasant for Dickie Loeb, co-slayer of Bobby Franks, it was learned today. Loeb's cell, where he conducted the "Stateville Correspondence School," was more like a cozy corner than the abode of a murderer who had participated in one of the revolting crimes in the history of Chicago. Loeb had loaded the quarters with books—shelves of grammar and rhetoric, ancient and modern history, geometry and trigonometry, guides to business conduct and one volume of criminology. Occupying most of the cell was a glass-top desk. The desk's rear was a solid row of books and they overflowed onto a long shelf built over the cell door. On the desk was Loeb's filing case supposed to contain a roster of his pupils. Under the glass top on the desk was a "selected" poem on friendship which Loeb had evidently liked.

Bonus Rush Is Increased Today

Applicants Stand In Line At Red Cross Office To File Applications

Applications for the bonus by Lawrence County veterans perked up this morning, when veterans stood in line today to await their turn to fill out their papers. Around 300 applications had already been made out up to 11 o'clock this morning, Secretary Orville Potter stated and from indications the rush would continue throughout the afternoon. Thursday and Friday, the Red Cross office was able to take care of the applicants as they appeared, there being no rush on the two preceding days.

Carbon Dioxide Fumes Overcome Twenty Persons

Discovery Is Made After Many Are Made Ill In Cambria County Community

BELIEVE FUMES SEEPED FROM MINE

(International News Service)
PATTON, Pa., Feb. 1.—Twenty persons were victimized here during the past week by carbon dioxide fumes from an abandoned mine. Mine Inspector P. F. Nairn reported today. Puzzled over what was believed at first to have been a strange malady after two homes were quarantined, news of the illnesses was suppressed so that the entire community would not be alarmed with fear of a pestilence. Heavy snowdrifts blanketed the mine site, which was believed to be the actual source of the escape. Nairn reported, adding that Dr. J. J. O'Connor, Cambria county medical director, will take up the matter in Harrisburg today. Doctor Makes Discovery Discovery of the gas was not made until several persons in the Stephen Mislevy household were stricken. While treating Mrs. Mislevy last Saturday for influenza, Dr. Leo K. Cooper, Patton, saw Anna, a daughter, fall into a semi-conscious state. Returning Sunday, Dr. Cooper said he found in addition to the mother and daughter, a son, George, also bedfast. The following day he received a rush call to the home, to find still another son, Michael, unconscious in the cellar. Then John Homyak, a neighbor, was stricken while visiting. Two Bandits Are Shot Dead

Third One In Jail And Officer Wounded At Los Angeles

GIRL REPORTER FOILS ROBBERY

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—Two bandits lay dead here today, another was in jail, and an officer wounded as a result of the wildest gun battle in Los Angeles in many years. A cleverly staged hold-up of an El Monte bank was frustrated by a tip from a quick-thinking girl reporter, relayed to the sheriff's pistol range. Receiving the tip, the sheriff's men sped to the bank, which was only a block away, and exchanged their still targets for live targets, firing at them in return. Shot down in the act of staging the robbery were Clarence H. Smith, 43, and E. C. Yates, 42. Smith's brother, Frank H. Smith, 44, surrendered after the fight. Motorcycle Officer Joseph Frisch lost two fingers from the bandits' fire. The tip came from Tillie Irwin, reporter on an El Monte paper, who was talking with a bank stenographer when the bandits entered. The stenographer gasped, "It's a hold-up." Miss Irwin rushed word to the pistol range, where a shooting match was in progress.

Hundred And Eighty Four Seniors Are Handed Their Diplomas

THIEL PRESIDENT MAKES ADDRESS

Awards For Scholarship Merit Are Presented During Program

President Earl S. Rudisill, of Thiel college, speaking at the 66th commencement program of Senior high school at the Cathedral auditorium last night, told the 184 January graduates that "you must cherish the goal of constant improvement," and "you must place emphasis upon sturdy Christian character," in the days that lie ahead. The class, the large audience of parents, friends and well-wishers of the students heard the college head declare, goes out into a world in "a day so full of promise and yet so ominous in its threats." He merely mentioned the turbulent conditions of Europe. "The pagan doctrine of acquisition is not the whole of life," Dr. Rudisill stressed at another point, and to another he said "God forbid that you think that because of this graduation your education is complete." Urges Broad Viewpoint The different challenges mankind thrusts at youth today were paraded

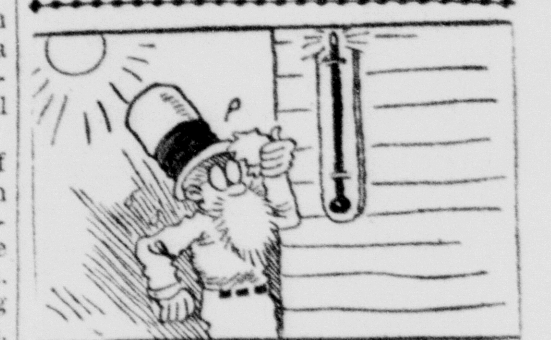

HONOR PUPILS OF SENIOR CLASS

Twenty-two graduates in last night's class were outstanding in their studies during the high school course and Principal Frank L. before the seniors and the audience, and President Rudisill strongly urged the graduating group to "acquire a viewpoint that is broad, universal and sympathetic." He told the class there still remains work to be done for those willing to work hard. The Greenville college head's address was delivered at the opening of the program which brought forth one of the seniors' most talented artists, Miss Dorothy Fisher, who played piano numbers to the accompaniment of the Senior high school orchestra.

Playing Hushes Audience Miss Fisher's deft fingers kept the audience hushed while she played her four numbers, "Allegro Maestoso," "Quasi Adagio," "Allegretto Vivace," and "Allegro Marziale Animato." The school orchestra also played for the senior march into the auditorium and for its exit at the close. Prof. J. F. Repligle directed. Presiding as chairman for the (Continued On Page Two)

There isn't any reason for a poem on the spring, that includes the usual reference to the birdies as they sing, there isn't any reason for a summery sort of lay, for its cold as you may notice, only twelve above today. But there has to be a poem to fill up this corner space, and there has to be a picture of a rather funny face, so without much rhyme or reason and with snow upon the street may we mention days in August with a torrid scorching heat. It may help you to get warmer as you coldly ploy along if you'll think of August days when the summer's going strong.

JANUARY SETS COLD RECORD

Takes Place As One Of Coldest

Weather Forecasts Seem To Indicate Some Relief Is Now Due

MERCURY BELOW ZERO LAST NIGHT

(International News Service) Predictions of fair and warmer weather today gave Pennsylvanians hope that the bitter cold spell, which gave the state one of the coldest Januarys on record, will soon end.

Falling slowly but steadily, the mercury dropped to a low of two above zero in the downtown Pittsburgh section. Harrisburg reported four above and Philadelphia a comparatively warm 11 above.

Two boys were killed in the Philadelphia area in sled accidents. No snow was forecast there and no immediate relief was in sight.

Harrisburg expected warmer weather today.

Ice roads were still prevalent throughout the state. For the first time in history, the state highways department put tractors to work cutting away hardened snowbanks to prevent blocking in the event of another heavy snow.

Homeless and destitute persons suffered intensely as the cold continued. Injuries suffered in a fall on an icy sidewalk claimed the life of James F. Hynes, 79, at Pittsburgh.

Your Income Tax In Brief

NO. 6 NORMAL TAX AND SURTAX RATES

The Revenue Act of 1934 provides for only one normal tax rate, that is, 4 percent on the amount of the net income in excess of the allowable credits such as the personal exemption, credit for dependents, etc. The act provides for an additional credit for the purpose of the normal tax on an earned income credit, that is, 10 percent of the amount of the earned net income but not in excess of 10 percent of the amount of the net income. The personal exemption and credit for dependents are also allowable as credits against the net income for the purpose of the surtax, the resulting net income being designated "surtax net income." The surtax is imposed on surtax net incomes in excess of $4,000. The rates increase in accordance with the amount of surtax net income included in varying so-called surtax brackets. On a surtax net income of $4,000 or less there is no surtax. On a surtax net income in excess of $4,000 and not in excess of $6,000, the rate is 4 percent of such excess. The surtax upon a surtax net income of $6,000 is $80 and upon a surtax net income in excess of $6,000 and not in excess of $8,000 the rate is 5 percent of such excess in addition to the $80, or a surtax of $180 upon a surtax net income of $8,000. The surtax on a surtax net income of $10,000 is $533.00, and upon a surtax net income in excess of $10,000, 59 percent, the maximum rate, is applicable to such excess, in addition to the $533.00. Many taxpayers make the error of applying the maximum rate instead of the rate provided for in the bracket in which their surtax net income is included.

Following is an example of how to compute the tax on a net income of $8,500, all of which represents earned net income, the taxpayer being single and without dependents:

Net income	$8,500
Less personal exemption	1,000
Balance (surtax net income)	7,500
Earned income credit	850
Net income subject to normal tax	6,650
Surtax at 4 percent on amount surtax net income in excess of $4,000 but not over $6,000, 4 percent on $2,000	80
Surtax at 5 percent on amount of surtax net income in excess of $6,000, 5 percent on $1,500	75
Total surtax	155
Normal tax, 4 percent on $6,650	266
Total normal tax and surtax	421

is solved or that Hauptmann is guilty, ordered him to renew his investigation, he obeyed.

In the meantime, confidential sleuths working directly under the governor and separate from the police are investigating the possibility Hauptmann was "framed," as suspected by the governor.

Gov. Hoffman calmly admitted at a press conference that this secret "frame-up" probe of his own is being conducted co-incidentally with the police activity he has ordered.

An astonished reporter asked: "Are your own investigators checking into the suspicions of a 'frame-up'?"

The governor nodded. "Have you ordered Colonel Schwarzkopf and the police to take part in this part of the investigation too?"

The governor smiled wryly and replied: "Well, hardly."

Wilents Convinced
Attorney General David T. Wilentz, defying the governor's suspicions of "framed evidence" at Hauptmann's trial, declared, before leaving for Florida on a vacation last night:

"All of the evidence . . . that has come to the attention of prosecuting officials, has pointed to the guilt of Bruno Richard Hauptmann and Hauptmann alone. There has not been one bit of new evidence.

The governor, however, firmly stood his ground. He hinted he has an ace or two up his sleeve which have not been mentioned to date.

"I made it clear in my statement (accompanying his order to Schwarzkopf Thursday) that I was not setting out my full reasons for either granting a reprieve or for ordering this investigation," he said.

He opened the assembly by calling upon the Rev. P. E. Stough, of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church for the invocation.

Dr. Green next introduced Dr. Rudisill, and after his address Miss Fisher played.

"Mercy Killing" Is Reported In West Virginia

Arrest Man For Alleged Killing Of His Invalid Wife With Axe

(International News Service) MONTGOMERY, W. Va., Feb. 1.—A "strange" "mercy killing" was revealed here today with the arrest of Frank Clark, 35-year-old miner, who police said confessed that he bashed in his wife's head with an axe because she was ill and he despaired of her recovery.

Clark was arrested at Kingston and lodged in jail here. Police Chief Carl Campbell said no formal charge has been filed against the miner, but that action probably will be taken Monday after an investigation of his story is completed.

Campbell said Clark's wife had been confined to her bed for several months.

INFLATIONISTS WILL BATTLE FOR NEW CURRENCY

A resolution offered by Rep. Greenwood (D) of Indiana, demanding that currency be issued against gold and silver now in the treasury to pay for the bonus, was adopted.

Some members took the position that in deciding not to oppose the bonus appropriation rider, they were abandoning all chance to obtain inflation legislation.

"I do not think you can do anything under this situation," said Rep. White (D) of Idaho.

Rep. Murdock (D) Utah said the only way to conduct the fight is to seek amendment of the liberty loan act.

No Alliances
The 50 members attending the meeting did not discuss the question of an alliance with backers of the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage refinancing bill or opposition to taxes for the new farm program.

"That opens up a field for uncontrolled expansion of the currency because mortgage debts of the country are so great," explained Rep. Greenwood.

"If we go in for the Frazier-Lemke bill, that lets down the floor gates for uncontrolled inflation. We are opposed to wild inflation."

The group unanimously adopted a motion by Rep. Connery (D) of Massachusetts to not interfere with the bonus appropriation on the ground that members would be violating their agreement to do nothing to interfere with cash payment.

The house group cheered a statement by Senator Thomas (D) of Oklahoma, asserting that a movement will be inaugurated in the Senate to oppose further issuance of tax exempt bonds until the government has issued money based upon gold and silver in the treasury.

Young Pa New saw south side young man walking along East Long avenue, attired in a pair of shoes that matched the whiteness of the snow, Friday.

Monday morning marks the start of the second semester of the school term in New Castle.

Wednesday night while placing some food in shelter houses for relief, I was greeted by the call of the Great Horned Owl, as this is the mating season of this bird the whoo-whoop-hoo-oo sound that I heard seemed very weird in the snow bound woods at night. The Horned Owl is one of the first of the bird clan to mate at the start of a new season. It is quite rare to hear the love song of the male owl as this bird is becoming rare and I wonder how far west from eastern North America and south through Atlantic regions to Mexico will find a mate in some dense woods, in this location when later on three white eggs will be laid in some hidden nook and the last of February new life will come from those eggs that resemble lumps of gray woolly down.

PA NEW OBSERVES

young man, probably a clerk in one of the downtown stores, was seen walking hatless, coatless and gulping at an ice cream cone, Friday afternoon.

If a man wearing a pair of white shoes is a sure sign of spring, then spring is right around the corner.

Young Pa New saw south side young man walking along East Long avenue, attired in a pair of shoes that matched the whiteness of the snow, Friday.

Monday morning marks the start of the second semester of the school term in New Castle.

Wednesday night while placing some food in shelter houses for relief, I was greeted by the call of the Great Horned Owl, as this is the mating season of this bird the whoo-whoop-hoo-oo sound that I heard seemed very weird in the snow bound woods at night. The Horned Owl is one of the first of the bird clan to mate at the start of a new season. It is quite rare to hear the love song of the male owl as this bird is becoming rare and I wonder how far west from eastern North America and south through Atlantic regions to Mexico will find a mate in some dense woods, in this location when later on three white eggs will be laid in some hidden nook and the last of February new life will come from those eggs that resemble lumps of gray woolly down.

Pa News notes that the old time ear muffs that seemed to have disappeared from service years ago, having been doing a notable comeback during the recent prolonged spell of zero weather. Ear muffs these cold days, Pa News is informed by those wearing them.

Young Pa New observed one man in the city who didn't mind Friday's cold spell. This particular guy was attired in a light sweater, light cap and wore no gloves. He was walking briskly up South Mill street in the middle of the street, pushing a cart loaded with fruits and vegetables.

Yesterday's wind played a mean trick on a certain young lady who was walking over the Croton bridge. This young lady had her head buried between her shoulders. Up came the wind and into the icy Neshannock Creek went her beautiful hat.

LARNED-MILLER WEDDING IN SPRING

Because Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Miller of Pittsburgh and Washington, D. C., formerly spent much of their time at their farm near Slippery Rock, there is more than ordinary local interest in the announcement of the engagement of their son, Joseph F. Guffey Miller, and Paula Alexander Larned, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Alexander Larned of West Hartford, Conn.

On her mother's side, Miss Larned comes of English and Virginia ancestry, her grandfather having come from England to Virginia in 1874. Through her father, she is a member of a family closely identified with the U. S. Military academy for more than a hundred years. After finishing school, Miss Larned studied at the Hartford Art school and the Yale School of Fine Arts.

Mr. Miller comes of colonial ancestry on both sides. He is a member of the political Guffey family, his mother being Democratic committeewoman for Pennsylvania, and his uncle, Joseph F. Guffey, now represents Pennsylvania in the U. S. senate. His father is a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The prospective groom was graduated from Yale university in 1935. He is a member of several prominent fraternities and other organizations.

The wedding will take place in the late spring in Washington.

PARTY REVOLTS IN PAST

CONSEQUENCES of defections from major political parties in times of party stress again become subjects of discussion because of the threat of Al Smith to "take a walk" if the conduct of the next Democratic national convention does not suit him.

The most discussed "bolt" from the Democratic party in comparative recent years was that of Gold Democrats from Bryan in 1896. They couldn't stand the pledge of Bryan and Stevenson to work for the remonetization of silver "without the consent of any other nation." Incidentally, the Republicans declared for a bimetallic standard by international agreement, "which we pledged ourselves to promote." Those Democrats who wished to satisfy ideas of party regularity voted for Palmer and Buckner, but they might as well have taken a walk. They cast only 132,000 votes out of 13,000,000.

The greatest bolt was that of Theodore Roosevelt, who was as much dissatisfied with his political protegee, William H. Taft, as Smith ever was with his protegee, Franklin D. Roosevelt. Theodore and his friends said many harsh things about "Will" even as Al does about "Frank." The revolt of Theodore resulted in the election of Woodrow Wilson to the presidency. "T. R." got more than 4,000,000 votes out of 13,896,000, and about 2,000,000 fewer than Wilson. Taft got almost 3,500,000, but only eight electoral votes. What the rebellion of Smith against Franklin D. Roosevelt will mean is yet to be told.

The president is as sure of renomination as was Taft.

ABOUT GROWING OLD

The psychologist who said the other day that old age and death are a mere matter of psychology, seems to be skipping about the edge of sophistry. To claim full credit for modern knowledge which has lengthened human life five years in two generations is one thing, but to reach from that for a logical conclusion that life may be prolonged indefinitely by mere psychological effort is something different. This would be comforting to those who desire to live to be 200 years old, but before men reach that age other knowledge than merely how to wish for prolonged existence will be necessary.

To fix an arithmetical program by which human life is to be lengthened according to the ratio of the first modern steps is to invite disappointment. Some time possibly, men may live to be much older than in this generation, but when that time arrives human beings will be found living as well as thinking in a manner far from the habits of 1936.

Physical death and old age are something more than a simple matter of psychology, at least in man's present state of knowledge.

GOVERNOR LANDON MAKES HIS BID

(From Philadelphia Inquirer)

The State of Kansas, with reduced taxes under its present administration, formally presents its Republican Governor, Alf M. Landon, as its candidate for President. With the frequent speeches of Colonel Knox of Chicago—and excellent speeches they have been—the public should be fairly familiar. The other night Senator Borah voiced his views with stress upon opposition to price-fixing monopolies. At last we have Governor Landon defining his attitude toward the momentous issues of the campaign.

His address to the Kansas Day celebrants must have impressed his hearers and his readers with the earnestness of his convictions. It was as applicable to the East as to his home folks in the West. His words were temperate, but pointed, and all the more forceful for that reason.

Governor Landon showed that he is strong for the integrity of the Supreme Court, its recent decisions have given "healthy impetus to our entire economic life," strong, also, for the Constitution—it "is not an obstacle to progress. It is the balance wheel of progress."

Like other critics of the Administration he finds waste and extravagance abounding. Relief appropriations have been more than ample, but bureaucracy has eaten up too much of the funds. The PWA was organized for handling "in the familiar pork-barrel fashion." Non-political administrators have been forced out and partisanship prevails. He realizes as do most intelligent men and women, that "the key to real stabilization is not boondoggling, but permanent jobs with the laborer worthy of his hire." He tells us that "business recovery promises more chances of employment than a thousand wild-cat schemes," and that what the Nation needs today is better housekeeping. And that is the precise truth.

Wisely the Governor does not undertake to furnish details for farm legislation. He wouldn't make political capital out of it. It should be approached on a non-partisan basis, for there is "no single solution" of it. He believes that soil should be conserved. So does Herbert Hoover. So do the Great Experimenters in Washington, but they want to go about it in a legally dubious way. Low farm prices have been caused "by the practical loss of the farm markets, both domestic and foreign." Prices for even major crops have been influenced by rates fixed on the surplus sent abroad. Landon's policy is not limited to crop returns, but seeks to rebuild fertility.

Confidence in government has been preached all over the land by anti-New Dealers as a requisite for recovery. Governor Landon holds to that belief. But where is the confidence in the Roosevelt Administration? The alphabet has been overworked in his opinion. Not only that, but "the Administration has presented no permanent solution of our major problems. On the contrary, it has created many new problems, and the gross over-centralization of power reflects either ignorance or indifference with regard to our federal system of government. All this in my judgment is actually delaying the return of prosperity."

Here is a voice from the West that is refreshing to listen to. The Governor not only visualizes the needs of the agricultural states, but those of the industrial centers. He may now be looked upon as an actual candidate who takes his place with other aspirants for the consideration of Republican voters.

Economy is favored by the cheap politician during a campaign and after a defeat.

What we really would like to see is a bigger and better AAA which would make adequate provision for the plowing under of a generous crop of politicians.

Fertile Viper Mother.
Two Babies, One Text.
Free Port For New York.
Mr. Astor Makes A Change.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

A GABOON viper, female, in New York's zoo, coming from hot Africa, surprised everybody by producing 27 little vipers at one birth. Born alive, not from eggs, if the gaboon lady act as other vipers do, her babies, when danger comes, enter her open mouth and all run down her throat, for safety.

Imagine that generous New York will give away 21, keep 6. The entire litter, at regular prices, would be worth $1,350. This twenty-seven-tuplet performance will glut the market.

EACH LITTLE viper appeared with half-inch fangs and poison sacs, ready for action. A cartoonist might apply this to bureaucracy, multiplying itself, the bureaucrats arriving ready for business.

QUOTING the Bible is "out of fashion," but the temptation to quote is strong when you read of a father who threw his young infant on the floor because it would not stop crying, then kicked it to death and read of "the body of a baby three months old richly clad," found starved and frozen to death on a dump in Bonton, N. J.

The text that seems appropriate to these "news items" warns men against hurting children, because "their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in Heaven."

NEW YORK CITY will have a free port, first in America. There should soon be dozens on the Atlantic, the Pacific, the Gulf and the Great Lakes. Free ports, that built up many of the world's important harbors, have nothing to do with free trade. Goods from foreign countries, come in and must go out again after "manipulation" and other processes giving employment here.

Trans-shipment stimulates shipping in every free port. This country should stipulate that all cargoes must come or go in American ships.

YOUNG John Jacob Astor, half brother of Vincent, head of the family, declares in favor of the 30-hour week. Six hours a day, five days a week, is enough for anybody, he thinks, after trying a 48-hour week.

Young Mr. Astor, who got a few of his father's millions, has gone to Europe. Many would prefer that, even to the 30-hour week.

SOON WILL come sailing across the Atlantic a magnificent, gigantic, lighter-than-air-ship, biggest the world has ever seen, flying the German colors. An old airship, much smaller has been flying from Berlin

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO BOOT?

When I was a small boy and we went downtown and bought a new suit of clothes, I always expected something to boot. . . . It was usually a necktie or a handkerchief. Once it was a police whistle, and I thought more of the whistle than I did of the new suit.

And when I went to the barber's to get my hair cut and sat in the chair and looked at the Gibson drawings on the wall and listened to the man-conversation and wished I were old enough for a shave, the barber always gave me a bag of hard candy. . . . And the candy was more fun than the haircut, because the haircut was something you had to have, but the look like a hayseed, while the candy was something to boot.

And when I had a knife and Albert Jensen had a knife and he wanted to trade and I wouldn't because he had one blade broken, he had to give me something to boot—like a dozen short cartridges.

Like a dozen short cartridges with a new rubber band in it—to make up the difference. . . . And always the "boot" was more delightful than the knives we traded because the "boot" was something extra.

Well, I've lived quite a few years since then and my hair has gray in it—I mean it has some brown in it—and I have to watch what I eat and if I don't get enough sleep I feel it. But I still value the "boot" that we're always trying to get out of the trade we make with life.

Most of our activities are fairly commonplace, routine and necessary. There's no boot in them. . . . But sometimes we do something that's hard to do, but we do it just the same because we know it's right. And there's always a boot in that. We're tempted to do something we don't; thus we rise a little above ourselves. And sometimes we discover some knock, some talent, we didn't know we possessed. We find a little more patience, a little more courage, a little more endurance, a little more fight or decency.

We make a dull trade and discover it's one of the best things we ever did. Life has thrown in something to boot and it's fine. . . . The big joys, the big thrills, the big enthusiasms, the big realizations, the big understandings that somebody needs us even more than we need ourselves—these are what life gives us to boot! . . . What do you want?

It seems that the driver responsible for the accident is generally the one without insurance.

Somehow it is hard to get enthused over the report of the state liquor control board which tells us that sales in state liquor stores totaled almost fifty million dollars last year, an increase of thirty per cent over the year before. By the same token there was probably a deficit of thirty per cent in the amount of food, clothing, shoes and other necessities on the part of women and children.

The new dealers haven't tried to harness the Gulf stream yet but if congress will only give 'em the money they'll try it.

A CONGRESSIONAL WITTCISM

Many people think that everything in the Congressional Record is a joke—but that's going too far. However, now and then that sober journal does print a joke. Here is one—and it's a pretty good joke.

Tourist (to native)—What do you think about the weather?

Native—Well, sir, I've thought about it for 40 years and I've come to the conclusion that it's changeable.

In this land of schools you can hardly imagine that there are twelve million people over ten years of age who can neither read nor write, but a government survey shows that to be the case.

On the Wall of a shelled house in a devastated French village there has been inscribed this: War provokes pillage.

Pillage brings ruin.

Ruin brings patience.

Patience implies peace.

Thus does war produce peace.

Peace provokes abundance.

Abundance brings arrogance.

Arrogance brings war.

Thus does peace produce war.

President Roosevelt has thrown back the responsibility of raising the two and a quarter billion dollars needed to pay off the bonus, back on congress. If a small tax had been placed on all the telegrams which were sent to congress in the last ten years, advocating payment of the bonus, there would have been enough money available now to have paid it off.

The World At A Glance

G. O. P. Functions Slowly.
Arrange Cleveland Show.
Borah Causing Concern.

Central Press

Cleveland Bureau

Central Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, Feb. 1.—Looking at the working of the national Republican committee from this convention city, one begins to wonder at its efficiency. The national Democratic committee under Jim Farley functions perfectly. The Republican committee doesn't even seem to be able to decide on convention arrangements, much less on a constructive program.

Seeing the arrangement committee in action is not conducive to belief that the Republicans will have a very pleasant convention.

In fact, in spite of Cleveland's lake breezes, the convention's platform committee is likely to perspire freely.

Although Republicans elsewhere gleefully discussed Al Smith's Liberty league attack on the New Deal, the Republicans in charge of arranging for the Big Show in Cleveland did not appear so gleeful.

The persistent attacks on ALL the New Deal policies leave nothing unattacked to put into the Republican platform.

Likewise, when the Republican arrangements committee descended on Cleveland, it found the first wavering in the steel and auto industry in more than a year.

Suppose the New Deal does collapse, then what?

Will the people desire a return to "normalcy" via a balanced budget, or a newer New Deal?

From the various groups with money the pension plans hovering around Cleveland, it appears as if the people would like to milk the cow dry, then blow it up and milk it dead.

There is no question that the Republican money men hate Franklin D. Roosevelt. But will be be "the lesser of two evils" by the end of this year?

The Republican situation is not so simple as it is set out to be. As bad as the Democratic situation is at the moment, the Democrats have the edge. (Al Smith is not nearly so popular throughout the nation as the New York papers make him out to be. The country remains strongly anti-New York, anti-Tammany.)

It gives the Republicans a heartache that the most effective radio speaker they have is Senator William E. Borah. If this is to be a radio campaign, it is essential that some Voice equivalent to F. D. R.'s be obtained for a top spot in the G. O. P. lineup. There is only one spot Borah will accept.

There is, of course, no serious consideration to nominating Al Smith. Nor is there any serious thought to a third party. There won't be any.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THAT "SPANISH" LIGHTHOUSE

Visitors to San Diego have always been taken out on Point Loma to see what is known as the "Old Spanish Lighthouse." It is a point from which a magnificent view can be obtained and it has mistakenly been said that it was a lighthouse built by the Spaniards, original settlers of California. This is untrue.

The Spaniards did have an "aid to navigation" in San Diego—not much of an "aid," and you could hardly call it a lighthouse. It was just a lantern on a pole, which, in turn, was stuck in the sand on Ballast point, just a low-lying reef, projecting into San Diego Bay. The Spaniards had upon Ballast point a stronghold which was built of adobe and with tile floors.

What has been called the "Spanish Lighthouse" was built by Uncle Sam in 1855 and has been designated in the Government records as Point Loma Light No. 355. It was first lighted, officially, at sunset, November 15th, 1855.

The Government has now rebuilt the light house as a National monument to Cabrillo and it will hereafter be known as the "White Tower." This Cabrillo National Monument is a landscaped and walled area of about 22,000 square feet—the smallest national monument in the United States. The White Tower is a monument that honors the memory of the first Caucasian ever to set foot on the western shore of the United States.

Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, who, on September 28, 1542, first sighted land at Point Loma.

The base of this Tower is 420 feet above sea level. The rebuilt lighthouse tower itself rises still another thirty feet higher and this put the light in the fog area and was the principal reason why, in 1891 the new lighthouse was built on the shore line of the Point.

It used to be an all-day's excursion to visit the old Spanish Lighthouse. Visitors took a boat at the Embarcadero in San Diego, disembarking at Ballast Point and from there they climbed a mile and a half up to the top of the Point. Today a paved highway leads to the White Tower and it is only a matter of a 20-minute drive from the center of San Diego to the lighthouse.

AS A contribution to the depression problem, 212,000 workers are considering a strike in three of New York City's large industries, dress-making, fur, building. To strike is the right of every man, although taking a job is not everywhere recognized as a right.

It is to be hoped that Mayor La Guardia will succeed in his efforts to avoid putting 212,000 more on relief, for which the Mayor is already paying $5,000,000 a week, including federal and state contributions.

CHANCELLOR HITLER begins his fourth year and Harvard college soon starts its fourth century. Harvard will outlast Hitler's government, for Harvard represents enlightenment, while Hitler rule represents cowardly oppression with odds of 100 to 1 against Germany's 600,000 Jews that include many of the Reich's most able, useful citizens.

HITLER is justified in boasting of the fact that his country is re-armed, "restored to military independence." England and other countries have become pawns in Germany since Hitler began building submarine and air fleets and reconstructing the German army.

Before he kicked over the Versailles Treaty, Germany was simply another China. In the address beginning his third year, Hitler modestly says:

"All that I am, I am through you; all that you are, you are through me."

Some Germans thought that Germany's greatness was created by the German nation, long before Hitler was born, even

Crisis Faced By Red Cross Chapter Here

Special Meeting Is Called For February 17, To Discuss Financial Condition

ROLL CALL FALLS SHORT OF MARK

Paced by a financial crisis, a special meeting of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, was called for February 17 at the monthly meeting of the chapter held last evening.

The report of the annual Roll Call revealed that the net receipts amounted to $2,265.82, and an additional sum of $1,563.46 is needed to keep the chapter operating on a minimum budget, calling for reductions in all departments of the chapter's operations.

Increased activities were reported in the chapter's nursing program, life saving and first aid for the past year, in the annual reports submitted.

During the past month, there has been a great increase in the chapter's first aid activities. Chairman Ralph F. Davis reported. A class of WPA workers has just been completed which had a maximum enrollment of around 320, approximately 200 of whom will be able to pass the requirements of the chapter, and who will be issued certificates shortly.

In addition, a class which numbered 30 scout leaders in Ellwood City recently completed its course and were issued certificates, besides a class of 14 at the Johnson Branch, which will take its examinations next week. A class of juniors numbering 20 will be ready for examinations in two weeks.

The report of Jack Hulme, chairman of life saving, showed many swimmers passed the beginner, junior, senior and life saver tests during the past summer. Three drownings were reported in the county, only one of whom was a resident of the county.

The report of Secretary Potter revealed an increase in many of the demands made on the chapter for varied forms of assistance.

Son Of Governor Curley Guarded After Threats

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Feb. 1.—State and local police today guarded 11-year-old Francis Curley, son of Governor James M. Curley at his Jamaica home following receipt of a kidnapping threat note, thought by police to be the work of a crank.

Governor Curley, in Washington enroute to a three weeks' vacation in Florida and Cuba, revealed the contents of the typewritten note which predicted "your son will be kidnapped within a week."

Two state troopers were placed on a 24-hour watch over the Curley home.

Because the note bore no ransom demands or any other indication of the writer's motives, it was thought the letter was the work of a crank.

It was typewritten on a plain paper and mailed in a plain envelope.

All of the new members are in the capital and will take the oath of office on Monday, with the exception of Ralph W. Morrison of Texas.

Trains Crash In Cincinnati

(International News Service)
CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 1.—Train crews worked feverishly here early today to remove the locomotives of two passenger trains from the Front and Carr street trestle on which they crashed full on last night, shattering scores of persons and shaking up several hundred others.

The Southland, a Louisville & Nashville train entering Cincinnati from Florida, and the Sportsman, Chesapeake & Ohio Flyer headed for Washington and New York, crashed head on on the trestle at about 11 o'clock. Engines of both trains were derailed, but hung precariously on the trestle, while an express car and a tender were dashed to the street, 60 feet below. No one was seriously hurt.

Guilty Verdicts In Drake Fraud

Eight Are Found Guilty In Chicago Court Of Mail
Fraud

FACE LONG TERMS IN STATE PRISON

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Eight defendants in the Drake estate mail fraud case—all the remain of 41 who went to trial last November 18—were found guilty by a federal court jury last night and today face maximum prison sentences of from 82 to 87 years and maximum fines of $27,000.

Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan will pass sentence next Tuesday. The conviction brings to an end one of Chicago's most incredible trials, a trial lent a home-spun atmosphere by the presence of scores of witnesses and defendants from the hinterlands of the Dakotas, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nebraska. From this territory poured "investments" of $1,200,000 in the mythical estate of Sir Francis Drake on promise of $1,000 returns for every dollar invested.

According to the story told gullible investors, Drake, who roved the seas in a pirate ship during the reign of Queen Elizabeth, cached some 27 billion dollars of his booty which has been held unlawfully by various persons since the 16th century. Oscar Hartzell, reputed leader of the fraud who has already served one year of a 10-year sentence on a previous conviction, had obtained an "assignment" from a lineal descendant of the buccaner, so the story goes, and the investments were being used to press the claim for the estate in the higher ecclesiastical courts of England.

At any moment, even during the trial, the faithful followers of Hartzell expected a red-coated messenger from across the sea to dash into the courtroom heralded by the blare of trumpets and dump golden doubloons and precious jewels into their laps.

Hartzell, his brother Canfield, of New York; Lester E. Ohmart, D. C. Short and Otto G. Yant who ran the Chicago Bureau of the Drake estate promotion after the officers were moved here from Boone, Ia., in 1934; Emil R. Rochel, of Madison, Wis., and Joseph H. Hauber were found guilty on all 18 counts in the indictment and face sentences, should Judge Phillips order that the sentences run consecutively, of 87 years and possible maximum fines of $27,000.

Silvery haired A. R. Gregory of Wenatchee, Wash., was found guilty on 17 counts and faces a maximum sentence of 82 years imprisonment and a possible maximum fine of $26,000. The jury deliberated seven hours.

Eastman Seeks To Force Consolidation Of Rail Facilities

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—With a warning that public ownership of the railroads is "inevitable" if the operators fail to do what the public requires, a federal transportation coordinator, Joseph B. Eastman today moved to take the first step in forcing nationwide consolidations of railroad facilities.

He commenced preparing orders for terminal consolidations in 11 cities. The orders, which will be issued within a few weeks, affect the following cities:

Worcester, Mass., Mechanicsville, N. Y., Grand Rapids, Mich., Jacksonville, Fla., Meridian, Miss., Freeport, Ill., Des Moines, Iowa; Council Bluffs, Iowa; Beaumont, Tex., Ogden, Utah and Montgomery, Ala.

The orders, permitted under the railroad emergency act, will compel all railroads entering each of these cities to abandon competing passenger stations, make use of common freight yards and cease operation of duplicating repair shops.

Eastman explained he had chosen these 11 cities because their railroad situation made them the easiest in which to put the new orders into effect.

Former Governor Fisher Sees Republican Victory

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1.—"The nation faces a crisis this year when it must decide between complete state socialism or a return to the Democracy of 1783," Pennsylvania's former Governor John S. Fisher declared today in a vitriolic attack on the national administration.

Interpreting this week's sensational political developments, the veteran Republican leader predicted his party will return to power "because the people have become disillusioned with the Democrat's alpha-betrical idiosyncrasies."

Further, said the former governor, the Democratic ranks were on the verge of a split between "left-wingers and grass-roots."

Charging that Franklin D. Roosevelt did not truly represent his party's principals, Fisher said: "It seems to me that the president has wandered far away from his party's ideals and is following closely the tracks of Norman Thomas as a socialist antagonist, a blabbering demagogue."

Assuring that the threatened break in the Democratic party was serious, Fisher, who has left political life to become an insurance executive here, declared:

"There is no doubt that the conservative South, strongly attracted to the old ideals of Americanism and states' rights, is in opposition to the

Award Watches To Safe Drivers

Fifty-Six Who Drive Six Months Without Chargeable Accident Feted

Outstanding records for safe driving made by five Penn-Ohio Coach Lines Company operators brought each of them the award of a beautiful gold watch at the annual safety dinner of the operators of the interurban bus lines, at Parkman, Ohio, Thursday night.

Each of these men had completed five years without having an accident charged against their records. The awards were made by D. S. James, vice-president and general manager of the company, as the climax of the evening in which tribute was paid to the drivers who had made commendable records during the year 1935.

The men to whom the watches were awarded were: John T. Bowling, T. W. Moore, and R. D. Ross, of Akron and John S. Baker and Carl F. Englehardt, of Youngstown.

The dinner was given in honor of 56 out of a total of 58 drivers, all of whom had operated their busses throughout either the first half or the second half of 1935 without chargeable accident.

R. N. Graham, executive vice-president of the company presided at the dinner. The principal speaker was Col. Lynn Black, superintendent of the Ohio State Highway Patrol, who told of the organization and work of the patrol, thanked the bus drivers for their earnest cooperation with his troopers and asked that they aid further with suggestions leading to greater highway safety.

Because of the tangle of wreckage, the body of the engineer could not be removed at once, but rescuers saw Branahan with his hand still resting on the throttle.

The train was bound from Logansport to Fort Wayne.

The commissioners were rounded up, they signed the note at the Union Trust Company, and the flow of money resumed.

The effect was glittering and reminiscent of the days when Paris really was gay.

Also shown was a fan of real green fern leaves and orchids. And then, of course, there was a "map of Paris" dress, which gave the wearer something of the appearance of a circus tattooed lady.

$1.15 Per Couple

Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Assn.
NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Out of the Mailbag: "Watching the auto traffic on 8th Avenue this afternoon, I wondered if anyone ever tried to estimate the per diem cost of gasoline used by idling motors in New York. The wasted energy must be tremendous.

"Also—the meter in my taxi ran continually between here and your building, although the car was moving about one-fourth of the time. Cost: 60 cents. In Boston the taxi meter is shut off while waiting in traffic."

The foregoing friendly note came from L. R. Hovey, owner of the Beverly, Mass., Times, one of the fine New England papers, which prints this daily tidbit. (There is nothing like getting your publishers to write your own column for you.)

Incidentally, the taxi meter that spins on and on, clocking nickels with the remorseless fervor of a politico spending the taxpayer's money, is a Manhattan annoyance of old memory. Mr. Hovey was in New York during the time when ice formed an eight-inch sheath on the pavements and snow was packed in huge igloos every few feet along the boulevards.

The taxi meters don't register quite as prodigally while the cab is at a standstill in traffic, but you are charged automatically then for "waiting time," which is five cents for every two minutes. The moving rate is twenty cents for the first one-fourth mile and five cents for each one-fourth thereafter.

The initial charge used to be fifteen cents, but a nickel tax was slapped on by the city a year or so back and when the tax was outlawed in the courts the taxi companies retained the charge anyway. The public had grown used to it, so why not?

brief vacations—will see as many plays as possible while here, every night and matinee.

The lovely lady revealed a common touch when she complained about her feet. So much tapping and hoofing that she gets blisters. But on the other hand, it was pointed out that she probably gets more cash per sore toe than any other lady with tired dogs in the land.

Of course she said she was bound for the Waldorf after the show—to dance a few numbers.

I saw Mac Murray, too, the other night. Remember? In my monage I considered her the No. 1 Glamour Girl of the flickers and she's still a cutie. She was donning her bib and tucker down at the Club Goucho in Greenwich Village, prepared to do damage to a huge serving of chile con carne.

"I do it to keep the extra pounds away," she said with no logic but much charm.

Chile con carne is the new Manhattan midnight dish, bidding fair to cut into the profits of the chow mein moguls. Peggy Joyce can surround a portion with gusto and Prince Serge Obolensky has the beans served him for lunch practically every day. Other con carne addicts: Sir Hubert Wilkins, Sonny Whitney, Dudley Field Malone, Ham Fisher and Dorothy Mackall.

UNION P. T. A. MEETS

The regular meeting of the Union Township Parent-Teacher association was held one day earlier than usual due to a district meeting held at the Y. W. C. A.

A very delightful and enlightening program was presented by Troop F of New Castle boy scouts, under the leadership of Mr. John Turek. They carried on their meeting in the same manner as they do at their regular meetings and also presented a play entitled, "Where There's a Will There's a Way."

Following this, Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts gave an enjoyable talk on the subject of "Conventions—What do we receive from them?" After which, the regular meeting was held.

Miss Cloak was elected to fill the vacancy left by Miss Morrison as the associations secretary.

A regular meeting of the Palette club was held recently. The club is preparing for the play, "Radio Vagabonds of 1936," which will be based on the same principals as the one last year. Actual practice for the "show" will not begin until after February 7.

The meeting was turned over to Mr. Young, Palette club faculty advisor, who explained the stage setting, and discussed expenses. The meeting was adjourned so the club members could look at the new flood lights for the show.

CAFETERIA IS POPULAR

The Cafeteria has been progressing rapidly this year. The appetizing menu, planned by Miss Rice, has caught the student body's eye, for more lunches are being served now than at any time in the past.

On January 16, the students presented a very quaint program with the theme being, "Music Goes Down."

and Round." A new arrangement "Wondering," composed by Chester Gierlach was sung by the Allen trio. Dorothy Barnsley presented a reading which received a nice hand of applause. Mary Spittle, our talented little dancer, danced and sang to, "I've Got a Feelin' You're Foolin'," accompanied by Dorothy Barnsley at the piano.

Several trombone and clarinet solos were played. The program was brought to a close with announcements by Mr. W. Leonard.

NOTES OF INTEREST

The members of the Library club are making plans for the program to be put on in the near future.

A recent addition to our student body were Helen Burns, a junior, and Margaret Burns, who is in the seventh grade. Both are from Maine.

The membership drive for the second semester has begun, and there is still room for many names on the roll. So join next Wednesday, girls.

Miss Cloak is donating the club a very interesting magazine called, the "Union Sentinel." Many pupils will enjoy reading this magazine we are sure.

The Library club has sent away for some of the books which the state requires the eighth grade to read. These are expected to arrive at any time now.

A party was held at the home of Janette Green, January 17th and weather, permitted a much larger per cent of the members to be present than at the former party.

AROUND CITY HALL

Once again remodeling is under way at city hall and the cost of the materials for the projects will come from the $50,000 appropriated recently and which will be charged against delinquent taxes for the years 1931-1935 inclusive, and which approximate half a million dollars.

Finance Director James L. Pink was asked by the writer if the amounts for the materials would be charged to this year. He said they would be lodged against each project. When the total cost of the materials is announced after the completion of the remodeling no doubt it will be available. One of the reasons why the powers that be are having the changes made now is the availability of WPA labor, carpenters having been assigned to the tasks.

The remodeling includes a new floor in council chambers, additional space for the engineers on the third floor, shift of the controller's office to the office now occupied by the sealer of weights and the inspector of plumbing and a shift of the latter office to the third floor. The courtroom at police headquarters also will be remodelled.

City officials have not yet arrived at a decision as to what future use will be made of the toolhouse on North Croton avenue after the city moves its flock of trucks and other equipment and materials to the plant formerly occupied by the wire nail company. The county will also store materials and equipment there. The city and county will exempt the taxes on the building. Sometime ago it was reported that the city was so cramped for space that employees took the city's motor vehicles home for keeping.

One hundred and twenty men, owners of liquor establishments, will meet with Mayor Charles E. McGrath on Monday. At that time he will tell them what he expects them to do in the conduct of their business. Relative to this he can only tell them to obey the law and they will have to cause to fear John Law. If those who hear him say his piece fail to abide by his instructions they can expect to go to the mat with John Law. He made this plain. The mayor also said that when he assumed office he could have sent his police to different places and they would probably have found some infractions. Rather than point out to them without warning he has decided to meet them as men engaged in a business that is legalized and one in which everybody must obey the law under which such places are given a legal right to operate.

The contingent fund of $21,325 set up by council has been dissipated because the present council has discovered that no provision was made in the appropriations for paying off about $26,000 in notes given employees in lieu of 40 per cent cash as part of their wages for the last three months of last year. According to the incumbents, they have been informed during the pay-wows of budget making that this had been provided for but in the constantly shifting of figures the sum was forgotten. As the city had set aside the $21,325 for contingent this made up the large part of what the city had to pay off the negotiable paper the city employees cashed in at banks.

Relative to the controversy between city council and City Treasurer C. C. McKibben anent a bond an item in yesterday's News in the second paragraph read that "council said bids had disclosed that if he presented a single bond for action as tax collector for both city and council the city could save approximately $400 a year." The council did not say this. They said "city and school district." The only question at variance between McKibben and council is the high cost of the bond. McKibben presented a bond. He does not set the cost. This is fixed by the indemnity company. Under the bond satisfactory to council, the bond presented was not approved owing to the high premium which was asked.

Good Samaritan Just Exercising

(International News Service)

JEFFERSON, O.—Men who detect the drudgery of shoveling snow off their sidewalks would enjoy living in a certain block on Chestnut street here.

After a recent snowstorm, residents were surprised to find their sidewalks spotlessly cleaned—not only shoveled, but swept.

It developed that George Andrews had cleaned off the walks for the entire length of the block—one-sixth of a mile—"just for the exercise."

NEW BRIGHTON DEFEATS NEW CASTLE 24-20

Locals Trail Entire Game

"Red Hurricanes" Suffer Third Defeat Of Season, At Hands Of Valley Quint

NOCERA-GROMMES NEW CASTLE STARS

Trailing the entire game, the New Castle High School "Red Hurricanes" basketball team was just about read out of the section three title race at New Brighton last night 24 to 20. It was the third defeat for the New Castle team this year. Nocera and Grommes were the only bright spots in the New Castle offensive drive. The victory puts New Brighton High back in the running for the title.

New Castle had a hard time last night in locating the New Brighton hoops in the first period and didn't register a field goal for the entire first period. The only point was a foul try by Emil Grommes. In fact New Castle had only one field goal for the first half of the game and that was by Adams, a sub for De Caprio at guard. Grommes had three fouls for five points for New Castle in the first two periods.

At the end of the first period it was 5 to 1 New Brighton and at the end of the first half it was 11 to 5. The play was a little more even in the third period with both teams scoring six points to make it 17 to 11 as the third period closed. In the fourth period New Brighton rallied and scored nine points to seven for the New Brightons and for a time it looked as if the locals would crash through, but fell short by four points.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh uncovered a likely star last night in "Blackie" Noera, who subbed for Johnnie Carik at forward and turned in a fine game, ringing up six points on three field goals. Emil Grommes at center had seven points for the Castles. He had one field goal and five fouls.

Adams Looks Good In place of Noera and Cabas, Coach Bridenbaugh started Covelli and DeCaprio, and later used George Adams, a sub for DeCaprio and the former Washington High boy looked good, with two field goals for four of the points. Carik and Mumford were held scoreless from the field and at the foul line.

Kredel and Budisek were the high point men for the New Brighton High team. Every member of the New Brighton team had four or more points. The victory evened up the series for the year between the two teams, as New Castle won here in the opening game of Section Three in January.

Limit Is Set On Trapping Beaver

Only Four Can Be Legally Caught During Special Trapping Season

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—Almost universal approval has been given the Game Commission's action in opening the beaver season for fifteen days, March 16 to 31, according to an announcement made by that body today. Trappers everywhere are enthusiastically preparing for the occasion. Four beavers comprise the limit set for each trapper, and not more than 10 traps may be used. Full particulars regarding the season will be made available within the next few days, the Commission advised.

The extension of the skunk season to include the month of March has evoked some criticism from those who do not fully understand the reasons for it.

The Commission stated that its field officers, as well as hundreds of fair-minded sportsmen, and landowners have insisted that the State is overrun with skunks, and that unless these animals are thinned out considerably the game supply will suffer; furthermore, no attempt by the Board to relieve conditions would undoubtedly precipitate a general move on the part of the farmers to secure legislation removing all protection from these fur-bearers. Farmers, particularly, have become embittered because of the alleged ravages of skunks.

"The chief purpose, therefore, in extending the skunk season," says the Commission, "is to provide a legal method by which their surplus numbers may be reduced to meet the emergency."

Engs Wins Game For N. C. Reserves At New Brighton

Cages Field Goal In Final Ten Second Of Play For 20 To 19 Count

Robert "Flash" Engs won the game for the New Castle High Reserves basketball team last night at New Brighton floor against the New Brighton Reserves by caging a field goal in the final 10 seconds of play from about three-quarters of the length of the floor and the final count was 20 to 19.

It was a nip and tuck battle all the way with the New Brightons leading at the half 10 to 4, and with New Castle showing better in the third and fourth periods. Engs, Ryglinski and Brest were the high point men for New Castle. New castle held the Brightons in the second half winning it 16 to 9. Ross Bridenbaugh played a fine game at forward making three points.

The New Castle Reserves have not been defeated this year.

Coach Spears To Answer Charges

Will Be Asked To Explain Charge Of Coffee For Gridders Being Spiked

(International News Service)
MADISON, Wis., Feb. 1.—Dr. Clarence W. Spears, University of Wisconsin football coach, Friday was asked to appear before the University board of regents February 6 to answer the charge that football players had been given coffee spiked with whisky before major games.

The board of regents, which is now investigating the turbulent athletic situation at the university, summoned both Dr. Spears and his accuser, William J. Fallon, football trainer, to testify next Thursday. Spears' only comment today was that Fallon's charges were "preposterous."

An affidavit signed by Fallon, in which he stated he had administered the alcoholic stimulants to players at the direction of Coach Spears, has been given the regents investigating committee.

Davies and Annerella were the high point men for the Unionites. Ziegler and Scheidmante were the best bets for the Zelenopleers.

Coaches Discuss Football Rules

Very Few Changes Are Expected To Take Place For 1936 Grid Season

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1.—Forming the rules committee of the American Football Coaches association, more than a score of gridiron mentors met here today to discuss possible changes in the game they teach.

Although the confab was held behind closed doors, it was believed that important announcements will be made this evening in the form of recommendations to be presented to the N. C. A. A. when it meets in Palm Springs, Cal., late this month. At that time the actual changes for 1936 will be made.

It was the general belief as the coaches started their annual powwow that a conservative attitude will be taken and few radical changes will be made, if any. No major changes were believed to be the same "hands-off" policy for 1936. One of the subjects certain to be the object of steaming oratory was the "slow whistle," authorized last winter, which speeded up the game considerably by permitting a player to pass, break away for a kick or a run when his progress has been temporarily stopped.

Mothers-Daughters Banquet On Friday

110 Enjoy Impressive Event At Trinity Lutheran Church Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 1.—Mothers and daughters of the Trinity Lutheran church held their annual banquet on Friday evening in the church dining room. With a beautiful red and white color scheme and a memorable program the affair was indeed impressive.

The young men of the church served a fine menu with covers laid for 110. Mrs. H. F. Fleischer presided as toastmistress on the occasion. After a song by the assembly Mrs. George Garmon gave the invocation. A period of group singing under the direction of Miss Helen Garmon followed. Mrs. Mabel Klindienst then read a touching article of a son's tribute to his mother. A selection was given by Our Mothers quartette composed of Mesdames John Hayden, C. W. Warbeau, Ralph Main, and C. S. Watters. The remainder of the program was as follows:

Two readings by Mrs. C. D. Ross. Selections by Our Daughters Quartette, composed of Betty Hayden, Betty Schiedeman, Vivian Shuster, and Betty Klindienst. Piano duet by Catherine Watterson and Helen Fleischer.

Reading, "My Mother," by Miss Frances Nelson. Selection by Our Little Daughters quartette, composed of Betty Hayden, Betty Schiedeman, Vivian Shuster, and Betty Klindienst. Toast to the Mothers by Naomi Lutz.

The feature of the evening was an address by Mrs. Harmon F. Miller now of Alliquippa. Mrs. Miller was a missionary in India for a number of years but was forced to return to her home by ill health. She displayed some interesting curios during her talk and also wore a native Indian sari. The affair closed with the singing of a hymn by the congregation. It was one of the most delightful and successful events of the type held in years.

In the closing stanza the locals took the play away from the Lippemans for the first time. They counted up 9 points while holding their opponents to one foul shot. The final score was 26-19. Faber, Robinson and Milanovich were the big guns in Alliquippa's attack. Hazen and Hauserman were best for Ellwood.

In the preliminary game the Alliquippa Reserves trounced the Ellwood Reserves by a 33-17 score. Thomas, Affandacus and Branchetti played a bang-up game for the victors. Jones, Ha and Berend were best for Ellwood.

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 1.—Private Elmer Faber, historian for the Penna. State Police is to be the speaker at the Annual Boy Scout dinner to be held at the Shelby social club on Tuesday evening, February 11.

The Ellwood City Scout Council realizes it is very fortunate in getting this noted speaker to come to speak at this meeting. It is for that reason that the dinner is being held at Shelby. The public as well as the many Civic clubs are invited to attend this Scout Dinner but in as much as the number of places that can be served is limited it is suggested that you get your tickets early. Reservations may be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce or any scout or scouter.

Banquet Honors Wurtemburg Group

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 1.—One of the most enjoyable events of last evening took place at the Wurtemburg U. P. church when a banquet was held for the young people of the church in observance of national young people's week.

At 6:30 the group were served a braised steak dinner by the ladies of the Braeden Bible class. A pretty color scheme of green and white was carried out in the color scheme augmented with pine boughs.

Miss Marjorie Streeter of this city led the singing. Miss Elizabeth very capably filled the role of toastmistress and introduced the speakers in a clever manner. Mrs. W. S. Cowan spoke briefly on the CMO subject.

Rev. Theodore Carlberg, pastor of the Conway U. P. church and SYPW of Beaver Valley Presbytery, was the principal speaker and he gave a convincing and worthwhile address on the subject of Loyalty. Remarks by Rev. J. E. Caghey concluded the pleasant event.

Cooney Funeral Held On Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 1.—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary A. Cooney, whose death occurred on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at her home on the Ellwood-New Castle road following an illness of several weeks, were held on Friday morning at 9 o'clock from the St. Agatha Catholic church. Rev. Fr. D. A. Wilkey conducted the rites, which were largely attended.

Aliquippa Downs Ellwood Hi 26-19

Lippemans Display Class In Defeating Blue And White Cagers Here Friday

HEIGHT IMPORTANT FACTOR IN GAME

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 1.—A tall and rangy Aliquippa High School basketball team clearly displayed what advantage height can give a team as they stopped Ellwood City High School passers on their own Lincoln gym Friday evening by a 26-19 score.

The visitors displayed real class in the game. Combined with a good passing attack, fast break, and accurate shooting they could not be stopped. On the other hand the Ellwood Wolverines found it hard to penetrate Aliquippa's zone defense.

On several occasions that they worked the ball in easy shots were missed. But Ellwood's chief difficulty lay in gaining possession of the ball. Four of the Aliquippa players were six foot or more, and it was a foregone conclusion who would get the ball on the tip-off or jump ball. It did the Ellwood players little good to follow up shots under the hoops.

Aliquippa lost no time in declaring their intentions and jumped to a 10-2 lead in the initial period. Ellwood was held to two foul throws by Hazen. The visitors continued to outplay the home team in every period but the last when the locals suddenly seemed to come to life and showed their best form of the evening. Most of this period was played by the Aliquippa substitutes. The score at the half was 17-7 and in the third quarter 25-10 for Aliquippa.

In the closing stanza the locals took the play away from the Lippemans for the first time. They counted up 9 points while holding their opponents to one foul shot. The final score was 26-19. Faber, Robinson and Milanovich were the big guns in Alliquippa's attack. Hazen and Hauserman were best for Ellwood.

In the preliminary game the Alliquippa Reserves trounced the Ellwood Reserves by a 33-17 score. Thomas, Affandacus and Branchetti played a bang-up game for the victors. Jones, Ha and Berend were best for Ellwood.

Liberty League Plans Puzzling

Believe Democratic Members Of Organization Will Bolt The Ticket

PAST CAMPAIGNS ARE RECALLED

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S. Street

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—What, after all, does the American Liberty League propose to do? According to Al Smith, the Democrats in its ranks will "take a walk"—that is to say, they will bolt the official Democratic ticket, if President Roosevelt is renominated at the head of it next June.

But that leaves a deal to the imagination. The question where their walk will take them remains to be answered, and if the league knows what the answer is, it hasn't told.

GUIDED BY CONSERVATIVES

The Liberty League nominally is non-partisan.

In reality it is under the auspices of conservative Democrats, like Smith, John J. Raskob and J. P. Morgan. It has, to be sure, the financial support of some rich Republicans, such as the du Ponts, but the outfit's inspiration is anti-New Deal Democratic, not Republican. What it would like best of all would be to beat President Roosevelt for renomination, but it hasn't more than the ghost of an idea that it can do that.

WHAT KIND OF "WALK"?

Assuming him renominated? Then what? A "walk"? What kind of a walk?

Will anti-New Deal Democrats simply stroll about on November 3, contenting themselves with not voting at all? It isn't a form of day's work which would seem to have much attraction for a fighter like Al Smith.

Or will they cast their ballots for the Republican candidate? A few will, perhaps, if the Republican is to their liking. However, it is not certain that he will be. For example, a Democrat who draws the line on President Roosevelt, is not likely to be won over to Senator William E. Borah, should he be the G. O. P. nominee.

Then, as to an independent, conservative Democratic slate, such as Palmer and Buckner in 1896?

Palmer and Buckner did what they were intended to do 40 years ago.

Their mission was, not to be elected (no one expected that), but to give bolting Democrats "some place to go" to beat William J. Bryan.

Incidentally William McKinley's election to the presidency was involved, but Bryan's defeat was the main consideration, and Palmer and Buckner turned the trick.

NO CANDIDATE AVAILABLE

However, that effective bolting Democratic ticket can be framed up now is no certainty.

An outstanding bolting candidate is doubtfully available.

Al Smith says he won't accept the responsibility. The late Senator Huey P. Long might have carried two or three states, but he is no more. "Roosevelt luck!"—as it is cynically but sincerely said.

Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia is about the only alternative.

Or maybe ex-Governor J. P. Ely of Massachusetts.

But it is doubtful that Talmadge could make a dent.

Ely possibly could swing New England, but New England is anti-New Deal anyway.

SCATTERING—AT BEST

In short, the anti-New Dealers, though on the offensive, don't tell what they are trying to accomplish. They do not know, in detail.

My guess is that, after the two major party conventions, it will be too late for them to launch an independent movement, and that their walk-out will be pretty scattering.

CONTAGION REPORT

Four children in one family have whooping cough, according to reports made to City Health Officer Dr. William L. Steen. They are Carol, William, Mary and Beverly.

Floyd and Wilbur Book of 817 Bonzo street have scarlet fever, like-wise Richard Barrett of 936 Temple street, the department reports.

Canada now has 128 landing fields and airports scattered from coast to coast.

On Court House Hill

County Commissioners have inaugurated a new system at the court house under which they are furnished with daily reports of all expenditures for supplies used by the relief and other departments. This enables them to keep in close touch with what is going on.

Edwin K. Logan has filed a summons in assumpsit against Caroline Ryan, executrix in the estate of the late Anna C. Holsinger. The amount of the claim is $165. Similar actions have been filed by C. F. Flannery for $75 and Caroline Ryan for $100.

Duplicates for the use of the assessors in the various wards, boroughs and townships of the county, are now being prepared at the offices of the county commissioners. It will require several weeks to complete the work.

Joseph M. Anderson has issued a writ of attachment against the Standard Fruit Company of Porto Rico, in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money due the defendant from the People's National Bank in satisfaction for a claim.

An appeal from the decision of Alderman James C. Brice of the first ward has been taken in the case of Frank J. Patterson against Lafayette Royston, of 212 Clemmerville boulevard. Judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $88 alleged damage to an automobile involved in an accident.

Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti says that the pension allowance made to Judge Robert S. Frazer, who retired as chief justice of the state supreme court, has caused a lot of criticism, but was in accordance with the law. Judge Frazer was granted $837.91 per month, in return for a total investment in the state employees retirement fund of only $169.66. Judge Frazer served a 21 year term on the high tribunal, and 18 years on the Allegheny county bench. He joined the retirement system on December 1, a little more than a month before his supreme court term expired.

One of the problems which frequently come before jurors in the trial of road damage cases is the value of a tree. There seems to be no real standard by which the value of a tree can be judged. In the case of shade trees from six inches to one foot in diameter, witnesses will vary in their testimony, all the way from $25 to $100. It is seldom that a witness ever puts the value of a tree over $100, or less than $25 for trees of the size mentioned.

A tree standing in the woods, would probably be valued on what it would be worth for firewood, fence posts or mine posts. A tree six inches in diameter would probably not be worth over a dollar or two, valued on a practical basis. But transfer that same tree to a lawn. It still possesses its intrinsic value for firewood or posts, but the owner at once attaches to it greater value as a shade tree and beautifier of the lawn. This is what may be called a sentimental value. It is the various estimates of this sentimental value, which makes for the difference in the testimony of witnesses, who attempt to place a value on a tree before a jury.

There may be a difference of opinion anywhere between the $25 and the $100 figure, and all of the witnesses may feel that their opinions are justified. Usually jurors try to average up the testimony in arriving at a verdict as to the value of a tree.

Among the occupations which will be represented by jurors called for service at a common pleas term of court, beginning on February 17th, the housekeepers will predominate, there being sixteen listed under that head. Next comes laborers of whom there are fifteen. Third in the list are nine farmers. Then comes seven clerks, two steelworkers, two tin workers, two carpenters, one salesman, one railroad, one mechanic, one electrician, one foreman and one tinner.

A session of court will be held on next Monday for the purpose of hearing motions and petitions that attorneys may desire to present. Motion court is held on the first Monday of each month. Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard will also sell properties seized on executions on next Monday. There are 14 to sell, one case having been settled.

Blanks for the one mill personal property tax due March 15 under an act passed by the last legislature are being mailed from Harrisburg. None of the forms have yet been received at the county commissioners' office. It is the understanding at the commissioners' office that these blanks will be separate from the ones used by the county for making personal property returns.

The state department had representatives here getting the names of persons who have been making returns of personal property, and also checking the mortgages and judgments. They were also furnished with the names of assessors from whom they secured additional data. It has been estimated that the one mill state assessment which will be added to the four mills collected by the counties, will yield around six million dollars. This money will be used for unemployment relief.

Personal property taxable under the act includes mortgages, promissory notes, judgments, public loans of bonds, shares of stock, articles of agreement, annuities and accounts bearing interest. It is claimed that a check up has revealed that less than fifty per cent of the recorded owners of taxable securities have been making returns to the counties.

Borah Will Delay His Decision On Entering Primary

Senator Borah As Yet Undecided Upon Entering Of Ohio Primary

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Senator William E. Borah (R) of Idaho will delay until next week a decision on whether to formally announce himself as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in order to enter the Ohio primaries, it was learned today.

The Borah movement in Ohio apparently was handicapped by that well-known political obstacle, described as a "shortage of funds". His friends in the Buckeye state were willing to head a Borah-for-president campaign and the Idaho senator appeared willing to submit his name but "lack of funds" may block the drive.

Relief Details Will Be Checked

Relief Administration In Fayette County Will Be Looked Into

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—State WPA administrator Edward N. Jones said today he would send an investigator into Fayette county next week to look into charges that county relief officials had been illegally certifying persons for relief work jobs.

The charge of illegal certification was laid before Jones this week by state senator Anthony Cavalcante, Fayette Democrat.

Relief heads named by the prior Republican administration, Cavalcante charged, were attempting to "perpetuate" their organization by giving discharged relief employees jobs in the WPA program instead of giving standing relief applicants.

Jones did not reveal who would represent his office in probing the senator's allegations, presented following investigation joined in by district attorney James A. Reilly of Fayette county, but said a "thorough investigation" would be made.

Of 30 dismissed relief employees, Cavalcante informed the works administrator, a number were given jobs as teachers or recreational instructors in the WPA recreation and education project recently instituted throughout the state.

The division that was wiped out as the forces of Ras Kassa pushed back the Italian lines, Ethiopian headquarters said, was the famous "28th of October" division under General Dimant.

Mother Rescues Her Daughter From Fire

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 1.—Clad only in pajamas, Mrs. John Law carried her crippled daughter, Gertrude, through a flaming living room and out into sub-zero cold at 4 a. m. Friday as fire destroyed their home in Poland. The house was burned down.

Mrs. Law had tripped over a mat while going downstairs, and dropped a kerosene lamp. The lamp exploded, splattering flaming oil over the living room. Mrs. Law dashed upstairs, picked up Gertrude, who is a grown woman, and carried her out of the house. Her flimsy pajamas caught fire, but she put out the flames before she was hurt.

Old Violin Of Man On Relief May Be 'Strad'

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—William Dougherty, a welder, had been on relief more than a year the day he idly pulled two old violins from an attic trunk.

But if the labels on the instruments are correct, Dougherty, his wife and six children will suddenly find themselves transported from poverty to comparative opulence.

"Antonius Stradivarius, Cremonensis, faciebat anno 1700," one label read. The other said: "Jacobus Stainer, in Absam, prope Oenipontum, 1665."

Dougherty is anxiously waiting a verdict by collectors on whether he has found genuine Stradivarius and Stainer violins. Those made by the Italian master have brought from $15,000 to $75,000 while Stainer's products also have brought big prices.

"They're heirlooms," Dougherty said, adding he had forgotten their existence. His grandfather brought them from Ireland three generations ago.

Jury Will Visit Farm Crime Scene

New Jersey Jury Of 14 Will Visit Salem County Farm House

(International News Service)

SALEM, N. J., Feb. 1.—A jury of 12 men and two women—14 under New Jersey law—today was to visit the Salmen County farm house where the state contends Norman Driscoll and Mrs. Marguerite Fox Dolbow carried out the slaying of the latter's husband, Harry, because of their clandestine love affair.

With the reading of an alleged confession by the 28-year-old widow, Deputy Attorney General Robert Peacock rested the prosecution's case in county court here. The statement, unsigned but reportedly dictated by Mrs. Dolbow after her arrest, placed Driscoll on the scene of the crime last August 2, but insisted an unidentified man had committed the actual killing.

Court was adjourned until Monday after Peacock was granted permission to take the jurors to the Dolbow farm today. Guarded by state police they will retrace the events of last summer's fateful evening and examine the barnyard where Dolbow was beaten to death with an iron farm implement.
